Questions for Solicitation Number: CFSA-08-I-0004
Mentoring Services

1. Will the agency have a bidder's conference regarding the mentoring services solicitation? (CFSA-08-I-0004)

No, the agency will not have a bidders conference regarding the mentoring services solicitation, CFSA-08-I-0004.

2. Can bidder's maximum number of clients increase each option year, i.e., 100 Base Year, 125 Option Year, etc.?

Yes, bidder's can bid to have maximum number of clients increase each option year, i.e., 100 Base Year, 125 Option Year, etc.

3. Is there a technical proposal needed for justification for these bids?

No, the requirements of the mentoring program are set forth in the scope of work and the contracting officer will determine during the responsibility determination if a bidder can comply with the minimum needs set forth in the scope of work.

4. How should bidders address the requirement in Section L including L.14 Standards of Responsibility.

The contracting officer requests responsibility data after the evaluation of the price.

5. If section L needs to be addressed, is this placed in a separate sealed envelope in addition to the bids and certifications and reps?

Section L does not need to be addressed at the time bids are submitted.

6. This proposal seems to grant awards based solely on price. Does OCP intend to factor in the quality of the program, organizational history and performance etc. If so, how does the agency intend to factor in these areas?

The agency intend to factor in these areas by determining the responsibility of the bidder. The contracting officer's determination of the responsibility of each bidder is either a "responsible" or a "nonresponsible" determination.

There are no rating or evaluation scores as there are in an RFP.

7. In there any need for a technical proposal, explaining our mentoring program?

No, the requirements of the mentoring program are set forth in the scope of work and the contracting officer will determine during the responsibility determination if a bidder can comply with the minimum needs set forth in the scope of work.

8. What is the distinction between an RFP and an IFB? Why did the agency decide no to go forward with an IFP this year?

The IFB is not an RFP. The IFB is based on price and the responsibility of the bidder. The bidder must comply with the scope of work.

9. Currently, there may be some mentors currently providing services to youth who do not have 1 year of college education.

If we are awarded another contract and maintain the obligation to provide services to these youth, are we supposed to arbitrarily, fire the existing mentor and change the youth's mentor to a new person? If so, has the agency considered the psychological implications this has for the youth? And if so, please explain a strategy for addressing this humongous issue.

The bidder must comply with the requirements of the scope of work. If the scope of work requires one year of college, a bidder must find a way to comply with it.

10. Will the method for award be based upon the Grand Total in section B. If so, it is not labeled as section B.3.4.

The entire chart is section B.3.4, Grand Total.
